

FIFTY DEAD IN DYNAMITE EXPLOSION TODAY; MANY VESSELS ARE WRECKED

LIGHTER LOADING ENGLISH VESSEL WITH EXPLOSIVES FOR CANAL SCENE OF DISASTER.

EXACT LOSS UNKNOWN

One Vessel Was Literally Blown Out Of The Water—Pieces of Steel Found Miles From Disaster.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Baltimore, March 7.—With a terrific roar and spouting of great columns of flame, a large quantity of dynamite exploded on a lighter in the lower harbor this forenoon, resulting in the death of at least 50 persons and the serious injury of scores more.

Forty stevedores are missing but it is thought possibly some of these may have escaped. The dynamite was being loaded on the transport Alum Chine for the Panama canal.

The vessel was demolished and the super structure of the United States collier Jason at anchor 700 feet away was wiped off and her side was riddled by metal fragments of the Chine.

The shock of the explosion broke windows many miles away and was felt distinctly at a distance of more than 100 miles.

Pieces of iron and steel three feet long and weighing 50 pounds were found at points on the Anne Arundel and Baltimore county shores three and four miles from the scene of the catastrophe.

Several men aboard the collier were killed and a large number of others received injuries which may prove fatal.

The Chine was blown literally out of the water. Heavy machinery and portions of the hull were blown hundreds of feet into the air.

The flying debris included hundreds of boxes of dynamite and it is believed the subsequent explosions of these caused the wreckage aboard the Jason and the tug Atlantic, on which also there was considerable loss of life.

MUTINOUS ARABS ARE SHOT BY THE TURKS

Fifty Lined Up and Shot—Men Complain of the Extreme Cold Weather.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Constantinople, March 7.—Fifty mutinous Arab soldiers belonging to Turkish regiments guarding the peninsula of Gallipoli and the Dardanelles straits were shot today as an example to the others.

Most of the men guarding the lines in this district had been brought from the warm climate of Asia Minor and have become mutinous owing to the extreme cold. They declare that they are too numb to fight.

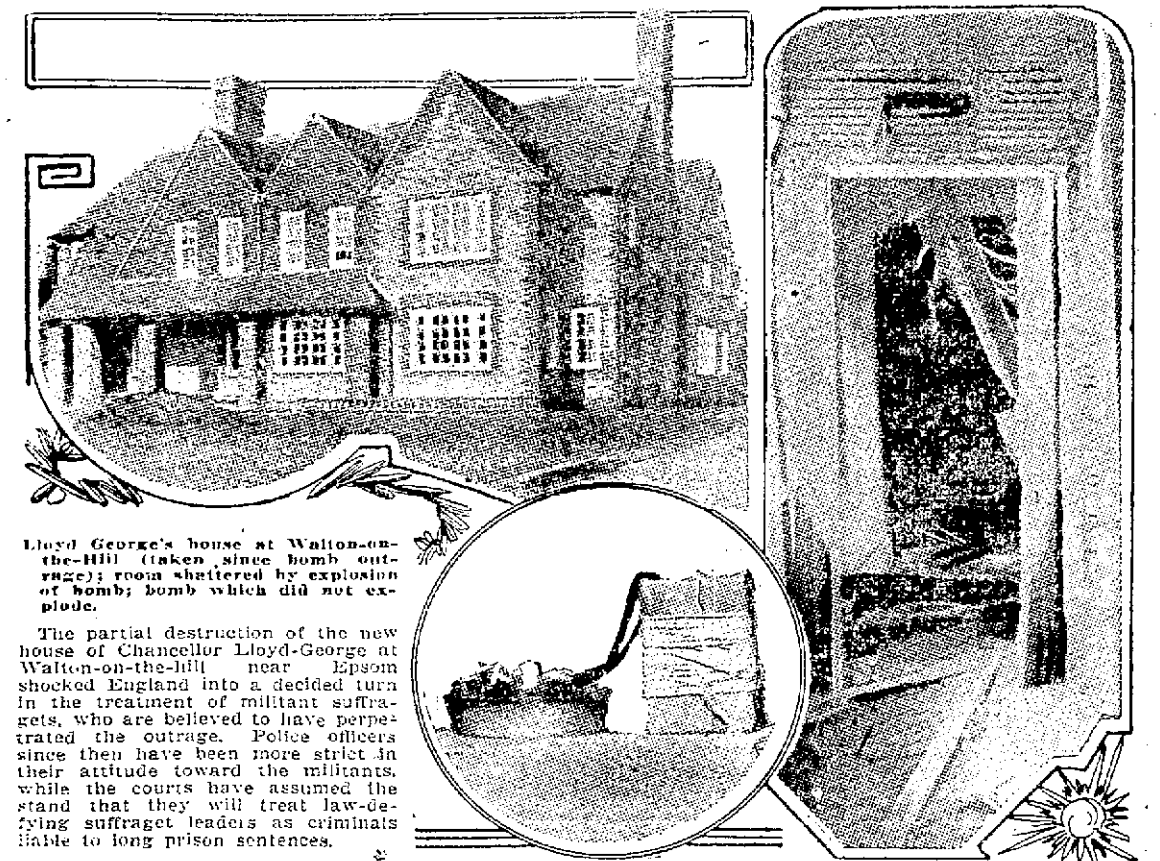

Negotiate Loan.

Geneva, Switzerland, March 7.—The Servian government today negotiated a loan of $6,000 at 7 1/2% with a Swiss banking group. The money is to be repaid within three months after the signature of peace between the Balkan allies and Turkey.

WICKERSHAM TO MAKE A TOUR ROUND WORLD

New York, March 7.—Former Attorney General and Mrs. George W. Wickersham have arranged to start tomorrow for San Francisco, from which place they will sail a week hence on an eight months' tour around the world. Mr. and Mrs. Wickersham will be accompanied on the trip by Miss Martha Bowers, daughter of the late Lloyd C. Bowers, solicitor general of the United States. Miss Frances Noyes and Frederick Moore of New York.

ENGLISH BOMB OUTRAGE MARKS TURN IN TREATMENT OF SUFFRAGETS BY POLICE OFFICERS AND THE CRIMINAL COURTS

Lloyd George's home at Walton-on-the-Hill (taken since bomb outrage); room shattered by explosion of bomb which did not explode.

The partial destruction of the new house of Chancellor Lloyd George at Walton-on-the-Hill near Epsom shocked England into a decided turn in the treatment of militant suffragets, who are believed to have perpetrated the outrage. Police officers since then have been more strict in their attitude toward the militants, while the courts have assumed the stand that they will treat law-defying suffragist leaders as criminals liable to long prison sentences.

ANOTHER OPPONENT OF HUERTA REGIME SURRENDERS TODAY

Rafael Tapia, Chief of Rural Guards in Vera Cruz, Swears Allegiance — Carranza Gains Strength.

Mexico City, March 7.—Rafael Tapia, an officer of the rural guards, who took the field against Huerta after the death of Madero, surrendered to the government authorities today. The surrender took place at Guadalupe-Higaldito where the treaty of peace between Mexico and the United States was concluded in 1848.

Rafael Tapia was formerly chief of rural guards in the state of Vera Cruz. His decision to surrender is regarded as a great gain for the government because of his popularity in the southeastern states. It was feared he would be able to muster a formidable body of men.

Opposition in Coahuila. News reached here today that a majority of the members of the legislature of Coahuila have signed a proclamation favoring the rebel government Carranza and entreating the citizens of the state to join in opposition to Huerta.

Carranza yesterday received 250,000 pesos as a contribution to the revolution cause from citizens of the state.

Manuel Mascareñas of the state of Sonora, who is a candidate for the governorship, arrived here last night and expressed great optimism in regard to the plans of the government to put down the uprising there.

Carranza Seeks Aid. Monterrey, Mexico, March 7.—General Geronimo Trevino, provisional governor of the state of Nuevo Leon, received a telegram today from Carranza, rebel governor of Coahuila, inviting him to join in the revolution against the new administration.

Gen. Trevino expressed indignation at the receipt of the message and refused to reply. He afterward issued a statement declaring emphatically his loyalty to the Huerta government.

"I will never be disloyal to the legal government of Mexico," he said. This appears to put an end to rumors that Trevino was inclined to join in the revolt because of the killing of the late president, Francisco Madero, who was his kinsman by marriage.

Senators Still Defiant.

Washington, March 7.—Sonora, one of the border states of Mexico, continues in a defiant attitude toward the Huerta government. The consul at Hermosillo reports considerable excitement there.

Rebel bands are approaching Acapulco, pillaging the countryside. They demand a large money payment for surrendering their arms. An armed band which appeared in Acapulco spread panic through a theatre and many persons fleeing from the building and other public buildings were injured.

Prisoners Taken South.

San Luis, Potosi, Mexico, March 7.—Eighteen rebel prisoners, including Miguel Acosta, treasurer of Francisco Madero, during the previous revolution were brought here today from the north. Acosta rebelled in response to a call from Carranza, but was captured by Col. Barbosa and a detachment of federal troops. During his brief career as a follower of Carranza, he succeeded in raising 15,000 pesos to assist the Carranza campaign.

STATE LAWMAKERS GIVE HIGH PRAISE TO BLIND STUDENTS

Pupils of Janesville School Make Fine Showing in Concert at Madison Last Night.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Madison, Wis., March 7.—For two hours and a half last night, members of the Wisconsin legislature and citizens of Madison and the state were thrilled by revelations of musical talent by pupils of the state school for the blind, at Janesville. Superlatives were used on every hand to express the appreciation of those who saw and heard the remarkable accomplishments of the young people in the face of their great handicap. At the concert's close, Speaker Meritt Hull of the assembly, thanked the pupils, their superintendent and his assistants for the privilege given the legislature.

"I have not sufficient ability to express adequately the appreciation we all feel for this splendid concert," he said, "but I cannot let the opportunity pass to congratulate these young people and their teachers and Superintendent Hooper on this musical treat. We are fully convinced that these teachers are educating their charges faithfully and well, and I know we who can see have had our own education measurably enlarged tonight by what we have seen and heard."

The assembly chamber was filled to overflowing during the concert, which lasted from 8 to 10:30 P. M., with the audience applauding for more. The orchestra was arranged in the semicircle on the floor in front of the clerk's desk, while the choruses were sung from the clerk's rostrum. The remarkable degree of vocal training shown, especially on the part of the young women, proved a surprise to everybody, but hardly less appreciation was shown for the large orchestra, to whom difficult operatic numbers seemingly had no terrors.

During the program Superintendent Hooper made a brief address in which he described the courses of education and military training for the pupils.

"That's better than the suffragette meeting," was Assemblyman Paul's verdict at the close. "I'd vote for any reasonable appropriation for a school like that."

What touched the spot, was Assemblyman Hamata's laconic comment.

"Fine all around," said Assemblyman Roethe.

"It's hard to beat by the average city orchestra," said Assemblyman Hurlbut.

"Grand, wonderful," was Assemblyman Sommerfield's view of it.

Judge Hiram W. Sawyer of Hartford, once democratic nominee for governor, called it "a very fine entertainment."

Senator H. C. Martin, president of the senate, said: "It was a fine treat and a revelation to all who listened. I am glad they came. It did us all good."

At the close of the concert Speaker Hull announced a reception in the assembly hall, where the handwork of the pupils in sewing and domestic science were displayed. Not over a dozen in the large audience left the chamber before passing before the exhibits and becoming acquainted with the practical work of instruction of the blind.

DOUBLE SENATORIAL FIGHT IN MARYLAND

Former Mayor William L. Marbury of Baltimore Candidate for Tega — Primary Next Fall.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Baltimore, Md., March 7.—Former Mayor William L. Marbury's announcement of his candidacy for the long-term United States senatorship practically completes the line-up for the coming double-barrelled senatorial campaign in Maryland, and the people are ready for one of the greatest political campaigns in the state's history. Two senators are to be named, one for long term to succeed John Walter Smith, whose term will expire a year from next March, and the other for a short term to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Isidor Rayner and now filled temporarily by William P. Jackson an appointee of the governor. The selection of the two senators will be made by the primary next fall.

Many elements will enter into the choice of the two senators, but in the main it will be a straight-out contest between the two factions in the Democratic party, the "progressives" and the "dyed-in-the-wool" regulars. Most interest naturally centers in the fight for the long-term senatorship. Senator Smith has already announced his desire to succeed himself. As opponents in the race he will have Mr. Marbury and Isaac L. Straus, former attorney general of Maryland. Senator Smith will have the support of the "regular" organization. Mr. Straus champions the "progressive" cause, while Mr. Marbury is making the most of his reputation as a "Wilson man." Mr. Marbury managed the Wilson primary campaign in Maryland last year and he declares that he entered the senatorial race at the personal solicitation of the new president.

PARCEL POST HOW TO USE IT.

(The new parcel post law includes some perplexing provisions. The Gazette is from day to day presenting a concise explanation of some of the more important sections of the law).

When sharp pointed instruments are offered for mailing the points must be capped or encased, so that they can not cut through the covering. Blades must be bound so that they will remain firmly attached to each other or within their handles or sockets.

Millinery, toys, musical instruments, etc., and articles consisting wholly or in part of glass, or contained in glass must be securely packed and marked "Fragile."

Pistols and revolvers when in detached parts are now mailable as parcel post, although the original ruling prohibited it.

The Gazette Parcel Post Map gives the zone limits, rates and all the provisions of the law. It is a good Geographical map of the United States and for a quick comprehension of the parcel post law is invaluable. This map is now on sale at 25 cents, if called for at the Gazette office, or 35 cents by mail.

The map is FREE if you pay one year's subscription in advance to the Daily Gazette.

NEW CONTRACT IS TO BE OFFERED GROWERS BY SUGAR COMPANY

Agreement Reached With the Kenosha and Racine County Association—Same Contract for Local Growers.

W. W. Woolf returned this morning from Racine where he held a conference with the president and secretary of the Racine and Kenosha County Beet Growers' association relative to the adjustment of the present difficulties over prices for the Nineteen Thirteen crop. The Rock County Sugar company has arranged to offer a far more liberal contract for the coming season to all its growers than has hitherto been made by any of the sugar factories, and if the democratic congress does not pass any adverse tariff regulations on sugar during the present year, will even pay the growers a premium of fifty cents per ton beyond the contract price.

At the conference yesterday Mr. Woolf offered a contract which is fifty cents a ton better than the contract offered by the United States Sugar company, at the recent meeting of the Rock County Growers' association, held in Janesville. The local company proposes to give the same contract offered in Racine and Kenosha counties to the local growers, should they prefer it, and also to the growers who have already signed up for a thousand acres under the original contract offered.

For growers who ship by car the prices will be $5.50 for beets delivered prior to December 1, $6.00 for beets delivered in December, the weighing and taring being done at the receiving stations. An additional fifty cents per ton will be given all growers if congress does not pass adverse sugar legislation during the present year. For the growers delivering by wagon at the factory the old contract of $5.75 per ton for beets in October, $6.00 for beets in November, and $6.25 for beets delivered in December, the weighing and taring for these beets to be done at the factory when delivered.

Last year the Rock County Sugar company used five thousand four hundred acres of beets actually harvested and they expect to have as many if not more acreage this coming season. In view of the fact their contract is fifty cents per ton more liberal than the contracts offered by other factories it is probable that it will be accepted by the members of the Rock County Growers' association when offered them as individuals.

ENGINEERS TO BEGIN VALUING WATERWORKS

City Officers Have Been Notified by Rate Commission That Work Will Begin Next Week.

Valuation of the Janesville waterworks as a preliminary to its purchase by the city will be begun early next week, according to notice given the city officers by the Railway Commission. As a valuation of the waterworks was made in the fall of 1911 for the purpose of affording a basis for the fixing of service rates, the engineers of the commission will have little more to do than bring the valuation down to date. This work will probably not take more than ten days or two weeks' time. They will, however, have to take into consideration certain new factors, allow for extensions, improvements of any kind, depreciation, and arrive at an estimate of actual going value. After the valuation has been made the commission will call a public hearing at which it will be determined whether the city and the Janesville Water company will consent to the transfer being made at the commission's figures.

WILL DELIVER MOTOR FIRE TRUCK IN MAY

New Piece of Apparatus Shoud Reach City Early in May—Nearly Duplicate of Madison Truck.

Janesville's first motor propelled fire truck will be delivered early in the month of May. It is now about a month since the contract for its purchase was signed by the mayor and city clerk, and according to the terms of this contract with the Seagrave company, delivery is to be made in ninety days from time of order, barring delays caused by certain highly improbable contingencies. The new truck will be almost an exact duplicate of the one recently purchased by the city of Madison. The only noteworthy differences are that the brass work on the Janesville truck will be nickel-plated, and the engine will not be water-cooled instead of air-cooled. As all the apparatus now owned by the city, excepting the fire engine in the west side station, is fitted with brass fixtures it was thought best to have the fixtures on the motor truck in harmony.

Although the bore and stroke of the six cylinders of the engines in Madison and Janesville machines are the same, the Janesville one will be a little more powerful. The water-cooled engine is fitted with larger inlet and exhaust valves and develops six or seven more horse power. The A. L. A. M. rating is 73.8 H. P. The water jackets are of exceptionally large size, and if at any time the circulating pump or any other part of the cooling system be crippled, the turning of a valve will permit the fan to the rear of the radiator to force a powerful current of air through the jackets and cool the cylinders.

The truck is of massive size, the top of the radiator being almost on the level with the top of the average man's head. Other dimensions are in proportion. It will weigh about four and a half tons empty and six tons loaded. From inquiries made of the fire chief as to the minute details of construction and equipment it is to be judged that the work on the truck is making good progress. The Madison machine has been giving very satisfactory service, plowing through mud and snow where the horse-drawn apparatus had difficulty in following.

PETER J. LENNARTZ STRICKEN BY DEATH

Former Alderman and Oldest Cigar Manufacturer in City, Succumbs to Stroke of Paralysis.

Peter J. Lennartz, alderman from the Fourth ward from 1882 to 1885, and the oldest cigar manufacturer in the city, succumbed to a stroke of paralysis at 3:45 o'clock yesterday afternoon, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Fred H. Kothman, 502 South Franklin street. He was seventy-eight years of age, and until he suffered a slight stroke of paralysis a few days ago, was in fairly good health.

Mr. Lennartz was born in Germany in 1835 and came to Milwaukee with his parents ten years later. There he learned his trade with the Myer Brothers, one of whom was the late O. F. Myer of this city, who came to Janesville in 1856, went to Chicago and returned to Janesville in 1859, residing here until his death.

Mr. Lennartz for many years operated a cigar factory on South Franklin street and was an enthusiastic advocate of the development of the Wisconsin tobacco culture.

As alderman he served with credit and efficiency. His constituents wished him to seek election for a second term but he refused to do so as he desired to devote his full time to his business.

Surviving Mr. Lennartz are three daughters: Mrs. Fred Kothman, Mrs. John Wilcox, and Mrs. Grant Smith; and five grand-children. The funeral will be held from the home at two o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

Bernice Ann Kuhlrow. The funeral services for Bernice Ann Kuhlrow, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Kuhlrow, were held at the home, 417 South Jackson street, at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon. The Rev. C. J. Koerner of St. Paul's German Lutheran church officiated.

TOMORROW LAST DAY OF MID-WINTER FAIR

Show Has Been a Big Success According to the General Verdict of Exhibitors and Visitors.

Janesville's mid-winter fair will close tomorrow night. The attendance at the show today was the best of the week thus far and it is expected that the crowd Saturday will break the record. All who have seen the exhibits are unanimous in the verdict that the affair had been a great success and there has already been a demand for a repetition of the show next winter.

The grand prize for the best exhibit of grain at the show was awarded to Noyes, Raessler of Beloit yesterday afternoon. He will receive the cultivator offered by the Janesville Machine Company. The accompanying illustration shows the ten prize-winning ears of Golden Glow corn which was won by A. Austin. On these same ten ears of corn Mr. Austin secured the blue ribbon in the show at Ames, Ia. this winter, where he competed in the northern zone at the invitation of the state agricultural college. He also won the single ear exhibit there, and the same ear shown here took the blue ribbon.

It is expected that the interest in pure bred seed grains and the demand for the same will be given a material boost in Rock county as a result of this show. Great emphasis has been placed on the importance of good seed by several of the lecturers while the fine exhibits have also been a factor in arousing interest.

Secretary Lane and the Janesville merchants, who have been instrumental in making the event possible, feel that their efforts have been amply repaid.

COME FROM MISSOURI TO WED IN JANESVILLE

Walter L. Whitehead and Miss Iona Woodward, both of Sumner, Mo., secured a marriage license and special permit at the court house this morning and were united in marriage at the Methodist parsonage by the Rev. T. D. Williams. They left on the noon train for their home in Sumner where the groom is engaged in farming.

Clifford D. Bordiner and Grace L. Dorn, both of Belvidere, Ill., secured a special permit to wed today and took the marriage vows before Judge Clark at Beloit.

RESIGNS AS TOWN CLERK OF JANESVILLE TOWNSHIP

At a meeting of the board of supervisors of the town of Janesville held in the county clerk's office this afternoon, W. B. Davis, who has held the position of town clerk for the past twelve years, resigned his office, and A. M. Church, former county treasurer, was unanimously appointed by the board to succeed him. Mr. Davis found it necessary to resign owing to the demand for his services at the Rock County Sugar Company where he has been promoted to the position of bookkeeper. He has been a most efficient official in his town and the members of the town board, especially, regret that he will no longer serve with them. In Mr. Church they have secured a man well fitted to assume the duties of the office.

DEATHS EQUALLED BIRTHS IN MONTH OF FEBRUARY

Just Twenty-Two of Each Recorded With City Health Officer Dr. M. A. Cunningham.

Deaths equalled births in the month of February according to the records of Health Officer Dr. M. A. Cunningham for the month of February, there being just twenty-two of each. This unusual proportion may not tally with the actual facts for the reason that certificates of birth are not filed as promptly as those of deaths, and belated certificates may change it. Births in Janesville usually far exceed the number of deaths, in some months by a hundred per cent. There were ten marriages and five accidents recorded in February.

NEW IDEAS IN JEWELRY

FRIDAY.

Sport Shop Shots

by Doc McCoy

The smallest baseball player in captivity, "Little Nemo" Leibold, is trying for an outfield position with the Cleveland Naps. He is 5 feet 1 inch tall, and about as broad. South-west Veau Gregg, after one glimpse at Nemo standing at the plate, in disgust gave up trying to pitch to him. "Why, he's only two feet from knees to shoulder," declared Veau. Nemo played with Milwaukee in the American Association last year.

The Cleveland Naps have a real live holdout in the person of Steve O'Neill, who has been a member of the squad for two years because he showed promise of some day becoming a good batsman. He feels that his experience should be worth something more than last year. President Somers opines that he has two perfectly good catches in Carlsch and Land, neither of them. Steve, experiments, and quite willing to let Steve stay out of the fold.

Pitcher Weiland of the St. Louis Browns is expected to do great things this year. Joining the Browns toward the close of last season, he won two and lost four games, of which only one would have been a defeat had he been given proper support. He is the tallest player in the major leagues, measuring 6 feet 5 1/2 inches. Hamilton, Allison, Baumgardner, and Weiland give Manager Starnell a pretty dependable nudge for a pitching staff.

Jim Thorpe is one phenom who refuses to explode. His hitting has been vigorous in almost every practice game the Giants have had, while his fielding is improving rapidly. The critics are even going so far as to claim that he will win a regular place on the team by the time the season opens. That's going some for a man who is the busiest kind of a bush league recruit, in spite of the fact that in track and field sports he is the world's greatest athlete.

It's getting more and more dangerous for a man to be a star baseball player in college days. Wilson, Collins, Vanderbilt College hurler, has shown some nifty stuff, and both Clark Griffith and Connie Mack are after him. He has another year in college and Coach Dan McGlinch wants him to stick around and play football, at which he is a star. What's a poor fellow to do, when thus between two fires? He can't do the Jim Thorpe stunt any more. It has become unsafe.

There is not much doubt that racing will be resumed in New York this summer. Betting by bookmakers will be forbidden, and it is probable that the law will be enforced, not only by the efforts of the police but by those interested in the tracks, for racing will be on probation and the least sign of organized betting will mean its certain death for good and all. Breeders and sport lovers both are intensely interested in promoting the sport, for New York is the natural racing center of the country.

John Evers is said to be living up to his old reputation of being a crab for disposition. The strain of handling thirty boisterous athletes in spring training camp is getting too much for his temper, never too sunny. Pity the poor Cubs in the heat of a pennant race, with Johnny goading them on! It would be a huge more fun stocking furnaces in Hades and a blooming sight more profitable to the player's disposition.

AFTER CLEAN SWEEP AT BELOIT TOURNEY

Janesville High School Five in Fine Trim for Two Days' Meet at Beloit College.

The high school basketball five, under the direction of Coach Curtis and Captain Dalton, went to Beloit this morning at eleven o'clock to engage in a two days' basketball tournament under the auspices of Beloit college. This tournament is the second of its kind Beloit has ever had, and more interest prevails this year than last. The locals, however, expect to run away with their opponents, as their practice last night was the best held thus far this season.

It was not known on their departure just when and with what team the locals would play today. They draw for a team at one o'clock. The locals may play first, or they may play last, but hope to play first, so as to be in good condition for the two games to-morrow, in case they win today.

Donnelly of the university will officiate at the games, and a square deal can be expected. The locals departed full of vim and determination. The men who made the trip were: Coach Curtis, Captain Dalton, Edler, Hemming, Dalton, Atwood, Ryan, Stickney, Kuhlow, and L. Stewart.

Schedule Arranged.

At the drawing this afternoon the games were scheduled as follows: Janesville vs. Harvard, Ill., at two o'clock; Woodstock vs. Delavan at three o'clock; Kenosha vs. Evansville at four o'clock; Beloit vs. Baraboo, at five o'clock. Lake Geneva is the only other team entered in the tournament and it will meet the loser of the Woodstock-Delavan game.

By agreement of the parties concerned it was decided to have the Kenosha-Evansville game count as an elimination contest for the Appleton tournament. This was the game which was originally scheduled to be played in Janesville.

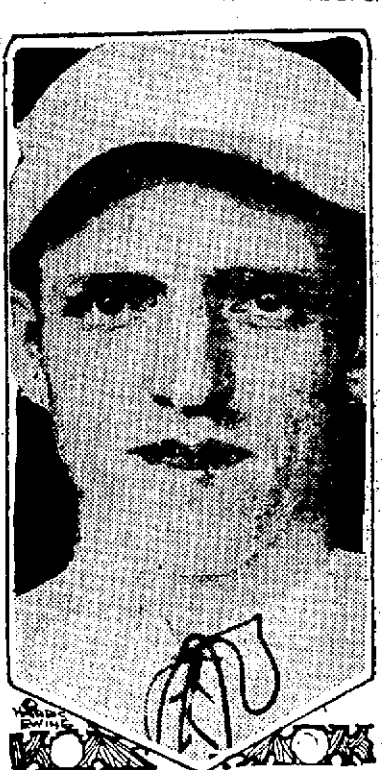

Contests Tonight.

The winners of the Janesville-Harvard game will meet the winners of the Woodstock-Delavan contest tonight; the winner of the Kenosha-Evansville game will meet the winner of the Beloit-Baraboo game, and the losers of the two games will also be matched together. This will leave the final games to be played tomorrow afternoon or evening.

Locals Have Walk-Away.

The Janesville boys had a walk-away in their first game, winning from Harvard by the score of 80 to 8. Their opponents were helpless. Hemming, the Janesville center, made thirty of the total points with 13 baskets and four free throws. Janesville played its regular lineup: Atwood and Edler, l. f.; Dalton and Ry-

ONCE BEST THIRD SACKER SLIPPING

Harry Lord.

The latest rumor concerning Harry Lord, now that he is no longer persona grata to the Whidy City club, completely wants to dispose of him. It is said, "Three years ago Lord was regarded as the greatest third baseman in fast company, but he has been slipping fast of late. Lord's inability to get along with the fans peeves him and indifferent playing is the result."

ELIMINATION GAMES ARE NOW REQUIRED

Appleton Management Announces The Schedule of Pre-Tournament Contests—Janesville Not Affected.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Appleton, Wis., March 7.—The race in northeastern Wisconsin for a place in the annual interscholastic basketball tournament to be held at Lawrence college the last week in this month is so close that it has become necessary for the tournament managers to order elimination contests to be played even before the elimination tourney is held at Oshkosh on March 13, 14 and 15. In other words, there are more than eight northeastern Wisconsin teams that are eligible to the elimination tourney and to weed out the weaker lives special games have been arranged by the management of the Lawrence tournament.

Fond du Lac vs. Neenah.

The first of these games will be played on Friday or Saturday night of this week. The Fond du Lac high school team has been ordered to meet the Neenah high school five, the game to be played at the Oshkosh Normal school gymnasium with a neutral official. The second of the pre-elimination games will be played at the Lawrence college gymnasium on either Friday or Saturday night of this week and will be between the Hortonville and West Green Bay teams. Those four teams have played consistent ball throughout the season, but their records show a defeat or two that stands against their chances for entering the tournament, and it is with a view to wiping out those records and "cleaning up" so to speak that the pre-elimination games have been ordered. The winners of those games will without further playing be entered among the eight teams selected for the elimination tournament to be played at Oshkosh, at which three teams will be chosen to represent the northeastern district of the state at the annual state championship tournament at Lawrence college.

Games at Janesville.

The other six schools that are already certain of entering the elimination tournament are Antigo, Marinette, Menasha, Oshkosh, Manitowish, and Wausau. Elimination games have been ordered in the southern section also. Kenosha and Evansville will play this week at Janesville, and the winner of that game will play Racine, the winner of which game will be entered in the state tournament. Sun Prairie and Madison will meet at the state university gymnasium, and the winner of that game must play Columbus at Portage, the winner of which game will be the other southern Wisconsin entrant in the state meet. Tomah and La Crosse have been ordered to play at Sparta and the winner of that game will play the winner of the Sun Prairie and Madison game at Columbus. Neutral officials insisted upon at all of the elimination games and the matter of prohibiting spectators is now being discussed by the board of managers. It is claimed that frequently teams gain an advantage by the permission of spectators to games and the board may seek to eliminate that condition.

OLD INSURANCE RATE RESTORED BY E. F. U.

Part of Laws of Order Requiring Members Over Sixty to Pay Higher Rate is Repealed.

Through a letter from Supreme President E. A. Williams to the President and Secretary of the local lodge, and through the columns of the official paper, Janesville members of the Equitable Fraternal Union have been informed of the repeal of that part of the laws of the society making the new rates of assessment compulsory upon any member at any time, either at age sixty or afterward. Present members rates of assessment and without change. This action was taken at a special meeting of the Supreme Assembly held on Monday, February 24.

Further action was taken repealing such portions of the laws as permitted the aged members of the society, those sixty years of age and over, to take paid up benefit contracts, and such of these members as have exchanged their old contracts for new paid up benefit contracts, are permitted to return their old contracts and receive back again their old contracts and resume the payment of their former rates of assessment. These aged members must exercise this option before June 1, 1913. They are not required to make this change but may retain it if they prefer the new paid up benefit contracts which they now have.

A special dispensation has been issued permitting all members who have lapsed since November 1, 1912, to re-instate upon signing a prescribed form and paying the assessment current for the month in which they re-instate. Such reinstatement must be made before May 1, 1913.

This action of the Supreme Assembly was taken in consequence of protests made by a number of local assemblies against the repealed rate law provision. An insurgent faction sought to institute legal proceedings enjoining the supreme officers from putting the new rates in force, and endeavored to secure the support of the Janesville assembly. Although the proposal of the insurgents was twice brought up for discussion at its meetings, no action was ever taken by it. At the time of the October meeting the executive officers of the society were of the opinion that the plan of revision adopted at that meeting was sound and correct from an actuarial and insurance view-point, that it was fair and just to the members as a whole, but in conformance to the wishes of the majority they decided to repeal the objectionable provisions.

FIGHTS KILBANE FOR PUGILISTIC CORONET

Johnny Dundee.

Johnny Dundee, New York's featherweight darling fighter, is getting ready for his championship battle to be waged with Johnny Kilbane at Vernon, Cal., on the evening of April 15. Dundee has met Kilbane several times in New York and has been accorded byistic critics there the best of the comment. Yet, the indications are that Gotham has been biased in favor of the Italian fighter with the Scotch name, and that he will have his hands full to come out even in the twenty rounds of milling in McCarey's arena.

AUTO SHOW WILL BE HELD IN FEW WEEKS

Arrangements Being Perfected for Exhibit of Machines at the Auditorium.

Plans for holding an automobile show at the auditorium in the immediate future have been taken by Secretary Lane of the Commercial Club and a special committee of the board of directors, and it is expected that the show will be held within the next few weeks, before the actual spring season opens. It is understood that a majority of the automobile men of the city and many from various parts of the country are most enthusiastic over the plan and a record breaking show will be held. The pace set by last year's exhibit attracted state-wide attention and this year's exhibit should be even more far-reaching in its effect.

TAFT'S LAST ACT.
The press throughout the country, regardless of previous condition of political servitude, are warm in their approval of almost the last official act of former President Taft in using his veto power on the sundry civil appropriation bill. He vetoed this measure because of a provision which he rightly characterized as vicious class legislation, a provision which was, moreover, as absurd as it was improper. Congress has no sort of right to say that the Sherman law shall be repealed or suspended as regards labor and farmer organizations. This is what it attempted to do in prohibiting the use of any funds for prosecutions of alleged labor or farmer combinations under the trust act. The veto was not over-riden, and the new congress and administration will now face the same question.

In discussing the creation of the department of labor, an exchange makes the following caustic comment: "The bill creating a department of labor President Taft criticised and signed with much reluctance. He would have vetoed it, one may feel sure, had not Mr. Wilson expressed his approval of it. Taft's comments on the bill are substantially those made on several occasions by many newspapers. The new department is not needed; the department of commerce and labor should have been re-organized and re-named, and a bureau dealing with problems of employment, working conditions, strikes, etc., should have been created within the Department of Industry and Commerce. Other departments, as Taft said, are in need of re-organization, as the whole national civil service is in need of much better co-ordination. Once created, a department is a fixture, unfortunately, but re-organization and correlation are as necessary now as they were before the signing of the bill in question. President Wilson should soon find that there is room for much improvement in the departments and bureaus on the side of method and organization."

ANARCHY TO DESPOTISM.
Events in Mexico are showing how true it is that the same old laws govern human nature and the same rules which controlled the fate of nations long ago have as much force today as they had in ancient times, or in the days of Napoleon. The man on horseback succeeds the chaos of revolution. From anarchy the pendulum swings back to despotism.

Everything indicates that Mexico is entering upon a period of absolutism at least as rigorous as the rule of Porfirio Diaz. The army is to be greatly enlarged. Rebels are to be shot as bandits when captured. No prisoners are to encumber the movements of government troops. The men in authority are apparently convinced that the only chance of peace and order lies in terrorism and military power.

That is the inevitable outcome of the breaking down of law and order. It is the natural fruit of revolution which substitutes a weak government for a strong one and leaves a country infected with the virus of plotting and revolt, as a means of undoing the result of elections and subverting the civil authority of the state to force.

When compelled to choose between tyranny and chaos any country will take the despot. It must, in self-preservation. Nothing is so hopeless, from every point of view, as anarchy, nothing so necessary as order.

NO INCENTIVE.
There is no incentive for the law-abiding citizen to keep his walk clean this icy weather when the city permits its crosswalks and walks through the parks in the condition they are at present. Nor is it encouraging to work and clean the ice and snow from their own walks when their neighbors are not doing likewise and suffer no penalties for their negligence and disregard for the law.

In past winters when sudden icy periods have arrived, a liberal supply of sand has been sprinkled over the worst walks by the city, but this winter even this precaution appears to have been neglected. If Janesville is to pass the overgrown village stage in its existence, it is by taking care of these little things that give a bad impression of the entire community to visitors.

Germany is to increase its standing army. France also proposes radical changes. Austria has an armed force in the field along the Serbian border. Russia is prepared for any emergency and the Balkan states are fighting it out on the same old line. Before long Europe will be afraid to even look under the bed for fear they discover cause for a fight.

Almost every community in the state wants the location of the state fair in their own particular district. If the fair is moved from Milwaukee it will mean the loss of the thousands of dollars invested there and the proposed change looks like a "penny wise pound foolish" proposition.

When a man drinks too much, according to a scientist, he is in a state of "psychic consciousness." But the trouble with that is, he can't say it to his wife when he reaches home.

At least the democrats who went broke in Washington during inauguration will be in a position to thank the hiking suffragists for showing them the way to get home.

Shorthand Not Modern Invention.
Shorthand was in use centuries before Pitman. In the fourth century "Acts of St. Callistratus," the compiler states: "There is a certain scribe of the law courts who listened to the discourses of Callistratus and wrote them down in shorthand on paper, and gave us, and we set in order with all accuracy his record outlined."

Queen Victoria Detested Tobacco.
The number of smoking rooms now distributed over Windsor castle would considerably astonish Queen Victoria could she but see them. Her late majesty could never bring herself to do more than tolerate the weed in any form, and the smoking room was always relegated to a very distant part of her various residences. Nor were the guests permitted to solace themselves with a quiet smoke in their own apartments, as on their arrival they were specially warned not to do so.

Too Much Realism.
Paterfamilias writes to complain of "The amount of realism" that is nowadays imparted into mechanical toys. "The other evening," he says, "Johnny's automobile ran down the cat and knocked the sawdust out of two dolls."

FORETELLS FUTURE.
If there was any doubt in the minds of loyal democrats that William Jennings Bryan was going to exert a powerful influence in the Wilson administration, it must have been set at rest by the latest arrangement for delivering public "pap" as arranged by the president. The initial step was taken when President Wilson announced that it was partly first and individuals later, but he has apparently undone this noble work of reform by the arrangements which went into effect yesterday. Summarizing the official acts of the president on the second day of his administration they may be divided into eight sections as follows:

1—Sent back to Cabinet members the resignations of assistant secretaries sent him for action with the information that these matters were for the Cabinet members to decide absolutely and without interference by the President.

2—Announced that all diplomatic appointments will be made by the Secretary of State, Mr. Bryan. This is an action hitherto unheard of.

3—Told Senators Bryan and Fletcher of Florida, who had asked him about appointments of Florida federal judges, that they must see Attorney General McReynolds about these appointments. Inasmuch as the Attorney General, through his assistants, must practice before the federal judges in question, the President's action in permitting him to name them was unprecedented and created a vast amount of comment.

4—Got to work at 9 o'clock in the morning and held a Cabinet meeting of an hour and a half before 11.

5—Admitted to the Cabinet meeting twenty men with cameras and permitted them to photograph himself and Cabinet members to their hearts' content.

6—Had two earnest conferences with William Jennings Bryan, presumably about the Mexican situation, although both Bryan and the President refused to give out any information about it. Bryan said the President would give out the news. The President said it must come from Bryan.

7—Received scores of delegations

If anyone doubts the wisdom of the ground-hog, who predicted six weeks more of winter, they should not admit it. If the old adage relative to March, coming in like a lion and going out like a lamb, is true, then we can hope for flowers by the Fourth of July at least.

The state legislature has seen fit to kill the proposed repeal of the Baker law relative to the limitation of the number of saloons. Perhaps it is wrong to say the legislature killed it. It should have been stated the brewers and liquor interests accomplished it.

SEED CORN AND ALFALFA SPECIALTIES

CORNFALFA FARMS

Waukesha, Wisconsin, Jan. 2 1913

View at Farm No. 1

Rosenberg & Lieberman, Milwaukee

Gentlemen:—

On one of our farms we have a two year old thirteen acre alfalfa field and we recently sold the third crop of this season in the window for $12.00 per ton in the field which netted us $220.00.

We still have the first and second crop and the yield is more than twice as much as the third. We expect to clear over $700.00 from this field this year. Three years ago we tried to rent this field for $75.00 a year but could not get a renter.

Robert G. Morey, a large certified dairyman of Genesee, Chicago and while feeding the alfalfa hay raised from your seed he produced the milk that won the first prize (Gold Medal) at the National Dairy Show in Oct. 1912 from over 250 contestants. He also won the Wisconsin Bronze Medal on this milk for the highest score. Mr. Morey claims that our hay is 20% more nutritious than ordinary alfalfa hay and increases the flow of milk.

All these tests prove to us that your Government Brand Dry Land Montana-grown-alfalfa seed shows quality as well as being greatly adapted to Wisconsin soil and climatic conditions.

Yours truly
SWARTZ BROS.

Don't risk letting land stand idle by sowing ordinary seeds. Make your crop sure and bigger by buying only Government Brand Seeds, "Standard of the World". They cost no more.

Exaggerated Advertising:

In these days of exaggerated advertising and misrepresentation it will be interesting to know that there is one store at least whose announcements are wholly sincere and not intended as "catchpenny" affairs, the only purpose of which is to drag people into the store to sell them "something else." Contrary to custom, we wish to sell the article that we advertise, and make the same offers in The Gazette that we do to customers in person. Our great desire is to operate this store on such genuinely frank principles that the people may learn to turn to it with confidence.

MASSACHUSETTS WOMAN TO PRESERVE TROPHIES OF YANKEE NAVAL VICTORIES

To preserve the trophies of many a hard fought naval victory and to save from destruction by moth and age the stars and stripes that waved over victorious Yankee ships of war, Mrs. Amelia Fowler of Waltham, Mass., has been selected by the government to supervise the expenditure of $20,000, recently appropriated by congress for the preservation of the collection of historical battle flags now in storage at the naval academy in Annapolis.

Some of these flags were taken in battle as long as a century ago. Others are of historical value because of the world-famous sea fighters over whose battles they waved. All of these, numbering 135, are now almost destroyed by the ravages of time and the incursions of the ubiquitous moth.

Harm Wrought by Free Beer.

Some of the older insurance companies of England used to dispense beer free to their employees. A drunken orgy took place every afternoon. Those clerks who did not want the free beer left their for those who did. One man told how he thought nothing of drinking sixteen glasses one after the other, and his statement was substantiated by other men. Before the free beer system was ended the annual beer bill of one company was $1,000.

THE SECRET OF SUCCESS

Genuine Merit Required to Win the People's Confidence.

Have you ever stopped to reason why it is that so many products that are extensively advertised, all at once drop out of sight and are soon forgotten? The reason is plain—the article did not fulfill the promises of the manufacturer. This applies more particularly to a medicine. A medicinal preparation that has real curative value almost sells itself, as like an endless chain system the remedy is recommended by those who have been cured, to those who are in need of it.

In an interview on the subject a prominent local druggist says: "Take for example Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, a preparation I have sold for many years and never hesitate to recommend, for in almost every case it shows immediate results, as many of my customers testify. No other kidney remedy that I know of has so large a sale."

The success of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is due to the fact that it fulfills every wish in overcoming kidney, liver and bladder diseases, corrects urinary troubles and neutralizes the uric acid which causes rheumatism.

A free trial bottle will be sent by mail, absolutely free. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., and mention this paper. Regular size bottles sold at all druggists—50c. and $1.00.

Philosophy of Shakespeare.

Shakespeare, who was one of the world's greatest philosophers, suggests the thought that there are degrees in the matter of false statements when he recommends to the injured or offended person a choice between three replies: "The Retort Courteous; The Lie Circumstantial; and the Lie Direct." And he adds, "Your IF is the only peacemaker; much virtue in IF."

Delicately Expressed.

Charley had never seen his Aunt Ellen before. She had lived several years in England, and had returned to Boston an ardent suffragette. "Well, Charley, how do you like Aunt Ellen?" asked his mother. ANOTHER MISTRIAL LIKELY IN HYDE MURDER CASE; JUROR'S ILLNESS CAUSE

B. Clarke Hyde and wife (at the top) and Senator James A. Reed.

Another mistrial in the case of Dr. B. Clarke Hyde, of Kansas City, Mo., charged with the murder of Col. Thomas Swope three and one-half years ago, seems probable by reason of the illness of a juror. The case has been tried twice before, but there were mistrials both times.

The state is endeavoring to show that Hyde killed Swope in order that Mrs. Hyde, the millionaire's niece, might inherit part of Swope's fortune. Recently Mrs. Hyde was granted a share of the Swope estate.

Senator James A. Reed is one of the principal attorneys for the state in the case.

GIRL WHOSE ROMANTIC STORY INTERESTS TWO NATIONS TO INHERIT BIG FORTUNE

Mrs. Mary Ruth Astley (May Kinder).

Another chapter was added recently to the romantic story of Mrs. Mary Ruth Astley, at one time known on the stage as May Kinder, when it was announced that she was to inherit an estate of nearly $400,000 under the will of her late husband, Henry J. D. Astley. A few years ago May Kinder, at that time a telephone operator in Philadelphia, decided to go on the stage. Meeting with no success in her efforts to get on the New York stage she went to London, where she appeared as one of the twins in "Peter Pan." She enjoyed a wide popularity, and young Astley, a member of one of the oldest families in England, fell in love with her and the two were married. Astley's mother, who opposed the union, cut him off without a penny, but relented when the young couple were on the verge of starvation. He succeeded to a large estate four years ago. His death occurred in September last.

Chicago & Northwestern REPORT OF NORTHWESTERN SHOWS DECREASE IN DEATHS

The monthly report of the Northwestern railroad show a decided decrease in the number of deaths and accidents during the month of February of this year than the corresponding month of last year. This is due to the efficient work of the safety committee and only goes to show that the time spent in the crusade against accidents is well spent. The report shows that only four employees were killed on the entire system two of these fatalities were switchmen, both of them were on the Wisconsin division. There were eight deaths and forty-nine injuries on the non-employee list, which is the only list that shows an increase. The total number of deaths on the entire road was nineteen and the injuries amounted to five hundred and forty-eight.

These figures only verify the fact that the employees of the railroad are doing all in their power to decrease the number of accidents and as the only list that shows an increase in death is the non-employees it seems that the people should use more precaution.

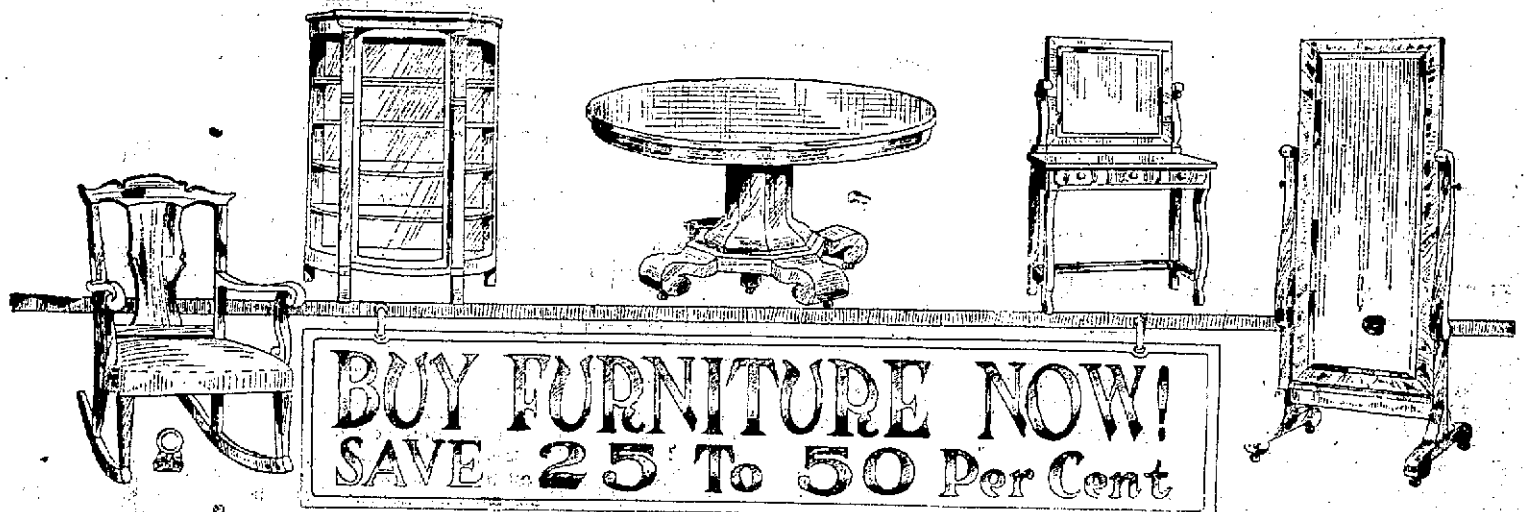

The divisions that Janesville is interested in show a slight increase over last year but considering that the record last year was almost perfect this fact, casts no discredit on the workman.

MARRIED THURSDAY AT CENTER CHURCH

Miss Ella Benash and William H. Naatz Take Nuptial Vows.—Elaborate Wedding Party Held.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Center, March 7.—At 10:30 a. m. Thursday, March 6, a very pretty wedding took place at the Zion church in the town of Center, the contracting parties being Miss Ella E. Benash, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Benash of Center and William H. Naatz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Naatz of the town of Janesville.

They were attended by Miss Margaret Meyers, a cousin of the groom, and Miss Minnie Ulzig, Frank Naatz, brother of the groom and Arthur Benash, brother of the bride. Rev. Wenzel of Hanover tied the nuptial knot.

The bride was gowned in a beautiful white messaline with bead and lace trimmings, veil and orange blossoms and carried bride's roses and ferns.

After the ceremony at the church the bridal party returned to the home of the bride where about two hundred guests had assembled. After congratulations and good wishes, a most beautiful and delicious dinner was served.

The bride's table was decorated with carnations, ferns and a handsome bride's cake. The rooms were decorated in white and blue streamers with white bells.

Both bride and groom have a large circle of friends in this community and were the recipients of many useful and valuable presents. The afternoon and evening were spent in playing cards and dancing, a large platform having been built where old and young enjoyed the dance program until early morning when all departed wishing them much joy, happiness and prosperity.

After a short wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Naatz will be at home to their friends after April 1st on the groom's farm in the town of Center.

Guests from away were: Miss Esther Benash, Delavan; Mrs. Fred Beyer and grandson, Edmund Herman, Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bergdoll, Otto Trippke, Miss Minnie Ulzig; and Verna Hutton, all of Janesville; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Goltz and daughter, Maeda of Evansville; Mr. and Mrs. August Wilkie and son of Beloit.

The Plea of the Penitent

By REV. PARLEY E. ZARTMANN,
Secretary of Extension Department,
Moody Bible Institute, Chicago

TEXT—"My sin is ever before me. . . . Hide thy face from my sins."—Psalm 51:3, 9.

This is one of the seven penitential psalms of the Bible and the chief of the seven. John MacNeill says that if David did not write the psalm he must have written it himself, so true is it to his own experience; and that is the testimony of many a converted man or woman.

The psalm is the outcome of a dark page in the history of David, king of Israel. First there was the adultery with Bathsheba, then the murder of Uriah, then concealment and hardness of heart for a year. Psalm 32 tells us how David felt while refusing to confess: "When I kept silence, my bones waxed old through my roaring all the day long. For day and night thy hand was heavy upon me; my moisture is turned into the drought of summer." Then came Nathan the prophet and stirred David's heart to anger with the story of the pet ewe lamb. Nathan's stern words, "Thou art the man," were like a lightning flash in a dark night. David saw himself as he was before God, and confession and forgiveness followed. After all these events—sin, concealment, murder, threatening, penitence, pardon, punishment—he cries, "Have mercy, blot out my transgressions, cleanse me from my sin, wash me and I shall be whiter than snow. The entire psalm is a perfect path for a penitent sinner, and you and I do well to walk in its steps.

Confession.

David recognizes the inherent evil of sin. He saw it as transgression, as rebellion, iniquity, a twisted thing, as sin—missing the mark set for the soul. David knew it was no light thing.

Sin in relation to God is transgression, failure, denial, turning away, blasphemy, hatred. In relation to man it is shame and isolation, tire-some and dreary monotony, degeneracy, bondage, death. There are sins of thought, of word, of deed; secret sins, family sins, business sins, social sins. An awful catalogue: Adultery, fornication, uncleanness, lasciviousness, idolatry, witchcraft, hatred, variance, emulations, wrath, strife, seditions, heresies, envyings, murders, drunkenness, revelings, and such like. (Gal. 5:19-21). Fools make a mock of sin. Society goes to the theater, sees a story of sinful husbands and wives, and laughs; it speaks of a drunkard, or libertine, or unbeliever, and calls him a pretty name.

Prayer.

Have mercy, blot out, wash, cleanse. We see how deep was David's realization of the enormity of his sin, and how real the need he felt for cleansing. He wants a change of state—"blot out my transgressions," and a change of nature—"cleanse me from my sin." Up amid the snows of the Arctic circle region is the grave of an explorer who went out with Sir George Nares. At the head of the grave is a single inscription: "Wash me, and I shall be whiter than snow." Yes, your past may have been black as midnight and foul as this sin of David, but Christ can wipe it clean off the page. "What can wash away my sin? Nothing but the blood of Jesus." And when by faith you accept this cleansing you will know the truth of what the girl meant when she said, in answer to the question "Is anything whiter than snow?" "Yes, a pardoned soul."

"Wash me thoroughly from mine iniquity." "Though your sins be as scarlet they shall be as white as snow." "Cleanse me from my sin." "I will be thou clean." Look at David's basis of confidence for such a prayer—"according unto the multitude of thy tender mercies." The greatest wonder of God is the mercy of God; and it is the sinner's only plea.

Sin is the worst word in any language and the worst thing in any soul. At the cross you can see God's hatred of sin, his love for the sinner, his fidelity to his promises, and your opportunity. "My sin is greater than I can bear." You do not need to bear it. "Who his own self bare our sins in his own body on the tree." Take your stand by the side of David, and the publican, "Be merciful to me, a sinner." Ask God, for Christ's sake, to forgive, to pardon, to cleanse, and to renew. The answer is yours already—"The blood of Jesus Christ his son cleanseth us from all sin." Come now, and by faith walk the path from sin through penitence, confession and faith, to pardon, peace and purity. Let the new year in your calendar be a new year in your character, your conduct and your career—life hid with Christ in God.

"I can, I will, I do, believe That Jesus has me now."

DURING THE OLEO

"My hair's like golden butter,"
Said the heroine, fair, serene,
Said the villain: "Dey calls her Margy—
But I believe it's Margarine."

DINNER STORIES

Upton Sinclair, at a vegetarian banquet in Philadelphia, talked about the "fast cure" that he has done so much to popularize.

"I heard a story recently," he said, "that illustrates the strong hold which fasting has taken on the public mind."

"A beggar stopped a man and said: 'Excuse me, sir, but nothing soiling has passed my lips for eight days.' 'Eight days,' said the other. 'Excellent. Let me congratulate you on the success of your interesting fast. It must be a great saving to you, and I assure you you're looking the picture of health.'"

There had been a dinner party the night before and the first thing the business did next morning was to visit the kitchen to see how the new green maid had progressed with getting things shipshape after the household upheaval.

"Mary," she said, "where are those cakes and things I asked you to attend to last night?" I cannot find them."

"Sure, mum," replied the servant, a pleased smile lighting her face, "yez told me to put 'em away, and so I did, mum and enjoyed thin foine!"

Because he had been a naughty little boy—a very naughty little boy—he was sent to bed without any dessert. But in the evening, when his brothers and sisters all were fast asleep he crept downstairs, a fearful little white robed figure, and going into the library, said to his mother: "Mummy, you told me never to go to sleep till I'd made peace with my enemies, so I've come down to forgive you and daddy for being so rude to me at dinner tonight."

Doctor: I'm afraid that lobster salad didn't agree with you.

Patient: But I had it at your own house, and you said it wouldn't hurt me.

Doctor: Ah, yes. But I was speaking as your host, not as your physician.

"THE ONLY SON."

Winchell Smith's new play, "The Only Son," with Thomas W. Ross of "Fortune Hunter" and "Checkers" fame, is easily the most dramatic dramatic offering current. It is a strong play written about a subject little discussed yet ever uppermost in the human mind, and in writing it Mr. Smith has created an intensely dramatic and human story, a story of impressive merit with a big gripping theme, and he tells it in a dialogue of brilliant phrasing, sparkling wit, yet withal extreme cleanliness in every line. That "The Only Son" carries a moral with dramatic conviction, there is no doubt and, as an illustration of how the legitimate stage can prove itself a powerful factor in the conveyance of a lesson in reformation and forgiveness, it is a shining example and an everlasting credit to its author. A factor in the appeal of "The Only Son" is the achievement of Thomas W. Ross in the title role, which he presents with an instinct of sincerity and a splendid appreciation of its artistic value that is as convincing as it is compelling. "The Only Son" comes to the Myers Theatre, special return engagement, Friday evening, March 14.

"UNCLE TOM'S CABIN."

A noteworthy performance of everybody's favorite drama, "Uncle Tom's Cabin," will be given at the Myers Theatre, Monday, March 10, matinee and evening. The production will be presented by Leon Washburn's Stockton's "Uncle Tom's Cabin" company, composed of actors and actresses of ability. "Uncle Tom's Cabin" is over half a century old, yet people are as avidly stirred by it now as those of the Civil War times were and as the ones in the next fifty years will be. A highly artistic meritorious performance is assured.

"UNCLE JOSH PERKINS."

Fashions in plays change almost as frequently as fashions in clothes, but there is one familiar dramatic friend that remains the same year in and year out—always fresh in its sweet simplicity, always welcome because of its direct appeal to the sympathy. This ever popular play is "Uncle Josh Perkins," that famous New England rural comedy drama, whose record of persistent popularity has had few, if any parallels in the annals of the American stage. Again on tour with a superb company, new scenery and effects, and the popular Rubo Band, "Uncle Josh Perkins" is announced for Saturday, March 8, matinee and evening at the Myers Theatre, this being the first visit of this attraction in several years. In the items of high class specialties and popular music, "Uncle Josh Perkins" has been brought right up to the minute. The performance is a guarantee of many good laughs and an evening spent with Uncle Josh brings its own reward.

I'd hate to be a kicker, and fuss around and beef; so many folks are sicker than those who deal in grins. I'd hate to be a knocking, and have the knocker's fame, and spend my lifetime blocking some fellow's useful game. In every town and city the kicker yields his jaw; it seems a frightful pity he's not suppressed by law, that people cannot rally around the croaking jake, and take to an alley and burn him at the stake. The kicker is contagious; like every other bore; his arguments outrageous make other people sorer; he's like a rotten apple that spoils the other fruit, and so we all should grapple with this condemned galeot. One kicker in a village, who kicks with might and main, is worse than pest or plague or suffragette campaign. One kicker in a hamlet will flood the place with woe, as when you see a dam let its muddy waters flow; and yet we only snicker or say a feeble sneer when we behold the kicker do ceady damage here. We should at once endeavor that kicker to surround, and lock him up forever safe in the village pound.

ON THE SPUR OF THE MOMENT

Off in the Stilly Night.
O'er the stilly night
Ere slumber's chains have bound me,
Just when I've neatly tucked
The flannel blanket round me,
There comes the alarming thought,
With possibilities dire:
I know that I have forgot
To fix that blamed furnace fire.

I scramble out in the cold
With every nerve fibre quaking;
My nasal appendage is blue;
My elbows and knees are shaking.
I stumble o'er rugs and chairs
And make a terrible noise
By falling downstairs head first—
I've tripped on a pile of toys.

I strike a tin railroad train,
And slide o'er the hard oak floor
On elbows and shoulder blades;
My head bangs against a door
When I reach the basement depths.
I'm sick and I'm sore and lame,
I open the furnace mouth
And seek for the tongue of flame.

I find that the fire's all right;
That it's just as it ought to be
To last through the entire night
And that's where the joke's on me.
I remember when it's too late,
As I rub each lame bruised spot
I'd fixed the blame thing all right—
I'd fixed it and then forgot.

Caught on the Fly.
Anyhow, there is one thing about
The new president of France to admire.
He has a very handsome wife.
A Harvard professor says the pique Lives an intellectual life. But, even at that, who wants to be a pique?

It does not look as though all the members of the Princeton alumni will get fat offices under the government.

If the lawyers can't save the billionaires from the Erie committee, it is necessary to fall back on the doctors.

What Chicago needs is elevated trains that will not only stay on time,

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Madison, Wis., March 7.—The assembly committee on excise and fees yesterday afternoon voted to recommend for death the Gannon bill to repeal the Baker law. This bill proposed to limit the number of saloons to one for every 500 people and to allow transfers of licenses. The committee was unanimous. The Johnson bill proposes the appointment of a committee of eleven members—four from each congressional district which shall investigate proposed sites for the fair and the state fair situation at Milwaukee also. It is said that Assemblyman C. H. Everett of Racine, a member of the state fair board, will introduce a substitute for this bill when it reaches the floor, its effect being the appointment of a committee of five members chosen from the members of the legislature, to supercede the proposed congressional-district committee, and to report to the legislature. The Johnson bill calls for a report to the 1915 body.

SIDEWALK SKETCHES

THE FOUNTAIN PEN.

(By Howard L. Rana.)

THE fountain pen is a portable ink well which leaks with great freedom at one end and if necessary can leak at both. It frequently occurs that the leakage takes place while the owner is thinking of other things, which cause him to give the pen to his wife as a birthday present.

All of the fountain pens made nowadays are absolutely non-leaking when in an empty state. Many a man has bought himself one of these water-tight pens and filled it with a tenuous brand of copying ink, then turned it down in his vest pocket in order to rebuke skeptical members of his family. After he has tried this three or four times and ruined the title page of several $2 shirts, he will resurrect his old pencil holder and clamp it to his inside pocket with a vicious look.

Fountain pens always manage to run out of ink at the exact moment when a man's time is worth $24 an hour. The pen then has to be taken down in sections, during which it succeeds in depositing the contents of its emergency tank on the cuffs of the owner, after which it is filled with a clever little device called a dropper. By the time a man has ruined a pair of non-reversible cuffs and worked a large quantity of indelible ink under his fingernails, he is so nervous that he couldn't aim the dropper at the top of a cigar barrel and hit it three times out of five. The self-filling pen does away with this trouble by choking up along about the third round, after which it has to be cleaned out with a broom corn and a high grade of profanity.

Most fountain pens work by fits and starts, mainly by fits. A man will be writing a caressing letter to his fiancée, on scented note paper, when his pen will strangle in the midst of an endearing sentence and throw dark blue slivers all over the page. He then has to begin all over and look up words of more than two syllables in the dictionary again. When a fountain pen refuses to give down, all that is necessary is to tap it on the paper, when it will release its entire reservoir at one fell blow.

Fine Remedy for A Backward Child

Continue it for Only a Brief Period and the Good Results Will Surprise You.

A low state of the general health is now the accepted cause of backwardness in children. So in the case of a backward child it is best to look towards building up its health. It will usually be found that the main trouble is in the food, in lack of assimilation and digestion. Hence care should be taken in the kind of food given to the child. This, with plenty of air and exercise, should bring about a change for the better.

Watch the conditions of the bowels, to note whether the waste is being passed off or not, or whether it is being passed too freely. If either condition prevails give a small dose of that gentlest of all laxative tonics, Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Thousands of mothers will testify to the wonders it has wrought in the lives of their own children, and for that reason, legions of families like those of Mrs. J. E. Bruntz, 1903 9th Ave., Nashville, Tenn., are never without it in the house. Mrs. Bruntz writes: "Harry had always been constipated until I gave him Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. I am certainly going to keep this medicine in the house in future for I know it to be good." It is pleasant to the taste and so perfectly safe that it is given to infants, and yet is equally effective for grown people. All druggists sell it and the price is only fifty cents and one dollar a bottle, the latter for families who need it regularly.

HARRY BRUNTZ.

Syrup Pepsin has no equal as a cure for constipation, indigestion, biliousness, headache, sour stomach, gas on the stomach, liver trouble and kindred complaints. It has so many advantages that those who once use it forever after discard cathartics, salts, pills and other coarse remedies, for they are seldom advisable and should never be given to children.

If no member of your family has ever used Syrup Pepsin and you would like to make a personal trial of it before buying it in the regular way of a druggist, send your address—a postal will do—to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 417 Washington St., Monticello, Ill., and a free sample bottle will be mailed you.

CHICAGO TRIBUNE "STARS"—No. 8

C.A. Briggs
In the days of real sport
"Oh! Skin-nay!"
Appearing in each issue of The Chicago Sunday Tribune.

C. A. Briggs' "The Days of Real Sport" calls up the past like a magic mirror held against the memory. Everyone who ever was a boy will at once recognize in these delightful pictures his own boyhood days, yes, the very companions he played and fought with, the very episodes he figured in, and he will live again happy days forgotten and laugh and chuckle and roar and pound his knee and be a boy again. There has never been anything pictured or written more wonderfully true to life, more laughable than this true story in pictures of universal boyhood. They are well worth preserving, and every Sunday brings a fresh one, seemingly with one more ha-ha than the last.

The Real Estate Man Who Became Angry---and Why.

This will show just how some property owners fail to co-operate with their agents in the disposal of their property.

The story was related to a Gazette solicitor by one of Janesville's live realty men.

Owner was unfortunate in possessing a piece of property in a section that was rapidly depreciating in value.

Owner placed property in the hands of a live realty man to dispose of and then wrapped it up in lot of castiron restrictions which made the sale of it practically impossible.

In the first place, he set a too high value on the property, refusing, even in the face of existing conditions, to "shade" the price a penny.

In time he became nervous because no sale had been made and insisted that his property be advertised. He was informed that it had been advertised again and again and prospective buyers located, but that the property was held too high.

The agent, a live one, offered to advertise more and also offered advice.

The advice was refused and the agent censured. Is it any wonder that he lost his temper with such an unwise, unappreciative client?

Owner, select a responsible live agent to handle your properties and then co-operate with him.

Discuss with him the value, selling price and advertising of it, bearing in mind that The Gazette real estate advertising columns reach over four thousand more families than any other Janesville daily newspaper.

FORTY YEARS AGO

Janesville Daily Gazette, March 7, 1873.—Injured by Wolves. The Stoughton Reporter states that Mr. Minney residing near Edgerton, in the extreme northern part of the county, was attacked by wolves, there being three in the bunch which bid fair to do him bodily harm, one evening last week, and that his injuries are so bad that recovery is doubtful. We can scarcely credit this statement. It sounds much like a fireside yarn for the edification of the children, yet it is barely possible that the scrappy, mongrel representatives of the wolf family which frequent this locality may have been driven by desperation of hunger to attack a human being. Wolves have been numerous this spring, having been driven from the northern wilderness to this thickly populated locality by the severity of the winter, but this is the first reported instance of an attack on a human being.

Some of our well disposed citizens are blaming their aldermen because the water refuses to flow through our ice and snow clogged culverts and surface drains. It has not yet been demonstrated to us how an alderman can prevent a culvert or a gutter from becoming filled with ice and snow. When they are vested with so remarkable power to accomplish such a remarkable feat it is probable that the winter season will be dispensed with entirely, for most of our citizens prefer the gentle spring time or mellow autumn to a five months tarry of the delegate from the north pole. Patient and judicious chopping is more potent than swearing at an alderman about something that he can not remedy.

Since yesterday morning there has been a gratifying departure of the snow. The river is rising at the rate of two feet in twenty-four hours.

If a book makes you laugh does an article? Or if Bull Moose has a head for an emblem has nominee?

The potato ring, it is said, was commonly used on the Irish dinner table in the eighteenth century as a support for the big wooden bowl which held the piece de resistance of the family dinner—the potato.

TOPIC OF EUGENICS WILL BE DISCUSSED

Religious Education Association to Take up Subject at its Meeting in Cleveland Next Week.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Cleveland, O., March 7.—Eugenics and mothercraft will be exhaustively discussed by the Religious Education Association at its tenth annual meeting in this city next week. It will be the first time these subjects have received the attention of the association, which is made up of leaders of all Protestant bodies, and corresponds to the National Education Association in the secular field of education.

The program for the coming meeting provides for conference on schools for the training of laymen and laywomen in Christian work. Expecting a considerable delegation from Canada, the association has also planned a conference of Canadian church workers, the first to be held.

Civic leaders in moral and political progress will take part in the conference as well as many noted religious workers. The convention will last four days. It will embrace more than thirty sessions, and have upwards of a hundred speakers, among them President Judson of the University of Chicago, who is also president of the association; President Falconer of the University of Toronto; President Vincent of the University of Minnesota; Dean Sumner of the University of Chicago, who is also head of Chicago's vice commission, and Dr. Edgar Y. Mullins, president of the Southern Baptist Seminary at Louisville.

Heart to Heart Talks

By JAMES A. EDGERTON

THE AVERAGE AMERICAN.

David Jayne Hill, former American ambassador to Germany, recently spoke to the Franco-American committee in Paris. In the address he described the average American.

The description was so pat that it was cabled to the American papers.

Some of the qualities ascribed to this average American by Mr. Hill were practical religion, generosity, love of home and industry. He is neither rich nor poor, has opinions of his own and means what he says when he talks business. He believes in the substantial goodness at the heart of the universe. He gives to the unfortunate both good advice and bread. He honors his wife and is ambitious for his children. He goes straight to the point. He judges men more by character than by intellectual endowments.

Perhaps Mr. Hill's best characterization of the average American occurred in these words: "He has a large fund of self reliance, and if defeated in his efforts or disappointed in his hopes today, he expects to succeed tomorrow."

There are several volumes of history in that one sentence—the history of democracy.

The school of equal opportunity has turned out a race of optimists who believe in each other and in themselves. The average American thinks he is as good as any other man; and he is.

The very thought has been a powerful stimulus. It has changed his outlook and has put spirit into him.

"As a man thinketh in his heart, so is he."

The average American has learned that he is "the master of his fate," "the captain of his soul."

If he fails in some particular undertaking it is but a slip in the path. He gets up and goes on.

He is not afraid.

In the past men have been in terror of what they called fate or destiny, as though it were something outside of themselves.

The average American has learned, or is learning, that those big sounding words stand for little but the ignorance and fear bred of the past, that we are the builders of our own destinies.

Children are afraid of the dark. Ignorance is darkness and ignorant men are children in mind.

As the light of intelligence spreads fear vanishes.

The average American believes that kingship and divinity are not alien but in himself. He therefore has faith in these attributes in him and in all men. He has the sanity of laughter, the genius of common sense, the tonic of hope.

SLEEP DISTURBING BLADDER WEAKNESS BACKACHE- RHEUMATISM, QUICKLY VANISH

Even Most Chronic Sufferers Find Relief After a Few Doses Are Taken.

Backache, urinary disorders, and rheumatism, are caused from weak inactive kidneys, which fail to filter out the impurities and keep the blood pure, and the only way out earth to permanently and positively cure such troubles, is to remove the cause.

The new discovery, Croxone, cures such conditions because it reaches the very roots of the disease. It soaks right into the stopped up, inactive kidneys, through the walls and linings; cleans out the little filtering cells and glands; neutralizes and dissolves the poisonous uric acid substances that lodge in the joints and muscles to scratch and irritate and cause rheumatism; it neutralizes the urine so it no longer irritates the tender membranes of the bladder, and cleans out and strengthens the stopped up, lifeless kidneys so they filter and sift all the poisons from (1.) Verses 1-3—Were these two persons called angels actual spirits or human beings? Why?

(2.) What, if any, evidence is there that spirits today sometimes actually materialize and speak and look like human beings?

(3.) Is hospitality a virtue that we must exercise or one that is optional? Why?

(4.) Why did these angels at first refuse Lot's hospitality?

(5.) If these men or angels said no and at the same time meant to accept on being pressed a little more, how would you characterize their actions?

(6.) What is your opinion, and why, as to whether Christian people are as hospitable to strangers today as they were in the past?

(7.) Is it a commendable custom or otherwise, and why, to have an extra spread or other than our usual meal when we entertain strangers?

(8.) If a person will not accept of our hospitality from a courteous invitation why should we or not press it upon him, as Lot did?

(9.) Verses 12-13—What should our warning be to those who are the associates of sinners?

(10.) What is the inevitable doom, physical and spiritual, of all who commit sins against virtue?

(11.) Verse 14—Why did Lot's sons-in-law treat with such contempt Lot's warning to escape for their lives?

(12.) In view of the admitted and the awful penalty attached to sin why do sinners continue in their sins and refuse the offer of Christ's salvation?

(13.) Verses 15-16—What would you say, and why, is the one thing which should have our immediate and urgent attention?

(14.) If God were to warn you that this place was to be destroyed in a few hours with earthquake, tornado or fire what would be the manner of your departure?

(15.) Verse 17—What sins entail the shortening or the loss of life as well as the other penalties attached to wrongdoing?

(16.) Why is intemperance a sin of such great magnitude and danger that we ought to urge men to fly for their lives from it?

(17.) How would you class the tobacco habit? Is it beneficial to health? Is it a help or a hindrance to spiritual life? Should we or not urge men to fly from it?

(18.) What is a sure way to escape from wrong desires and impurity of thought, and what is the certain penalty if we do not escape? (This is one of the questions which may be answered in writing by members of the club.)

(19.) Verses 18-20—When God either directly or indirectly tells us where to go or what to do for safety is it wise or otherwise to suggest some other place or plan, as Lot does in this story?

(20.) Verse 21—When God answers a prayer that had better never have been made, is it ever in our best interest?

(22.) Verses 24-25—What is the inevitable doom of every unrighteous nation?

(23.) Verse 26—What was the real sin of Lot's wife?

(24.) Verses 27-29—What is the proof that God never forgets his own?

Lesson for Sunday, March 10, 1913. The Test of Abraham's Faith. Gen. xxi:1-10.

Still on Edge of Wilderness.

The principal town of British East Africa, Nairobi, is commonly supposed to be very up-to-date and replete with every modern convenience, but recently a resident named Oldfield shot a nine-foot lion from the Fort Hall road. This is within hail of motor cars and the extensive traffic of that main thoroughfare.

Why Not Be Allowed to Sleep?

A patent has been granted a New Yorker for a burglar alarm that awakens a person by spraying him with water as he lies asleep in bed.

Spread Dread Plague.
In the days of King Charles II. news traveled slowly in England and before the people of Cornwall knew about the terrible plague in London there came to Bodmin itinerant traders with pack mules laden with silk and satin gowns, rich robes, plumed hats and expensive laces, which were offered for sale at ridiculous prices. The countryside rushed to purchase, and the merchants, having disposed of all their stock, departed. Then within a day or two the purchasers were attacked by a strange sickness, and died by scores. The gaudy clothes had been stripped from the bodies of those who had died of plague in London.

Not in Sight.

Hokus—"Do you think we shall ever have universal peace?" Pokus—"Not so long as women continue to play bridge for stakes."

PASTOR RESIGNS TO REFORM FUNERALS

Dr. Bradford Leavitt.

Dr. Bradford Leavitt, Unitarian minister of San Francisco, has announced that he will quit the pulpit soon to become an undertaker. Dr. Leavitt believes that death can be softened by less stagginess of funerals; that flowers rather than crepe, that white rather than black, can give to the funeral something other than gloom, and can impress peacefulness upon those who have been separated from the ones they have adored in life. It is to carry these ideas into effect that Dr. Leavitt is giving up the ministry.

Caruso (standing) and Scotti.

Here is an unusual photograph just taken of the two greatest living singers. Caruso, the lute throated tenor, and Scotti, the marvelous baritone, are seen ready to criticize the reproduction by the talking machine of one of their famous duets.

OVERWORK AND MENTAL STRAIN

causes run-down health and sickness. Scott's Emulsion and rest are needed, but SCOTT'S EMULSION is more important because it enriches the blood, nourishes the nerves—builds the body and restores strength, vigor and immediate energy without interrupting daily duties.

Scott's Emulsion drives out colds and strengthens the lungs.
